Headmaster, Vice-Principal, lead school in pursuit of excellence

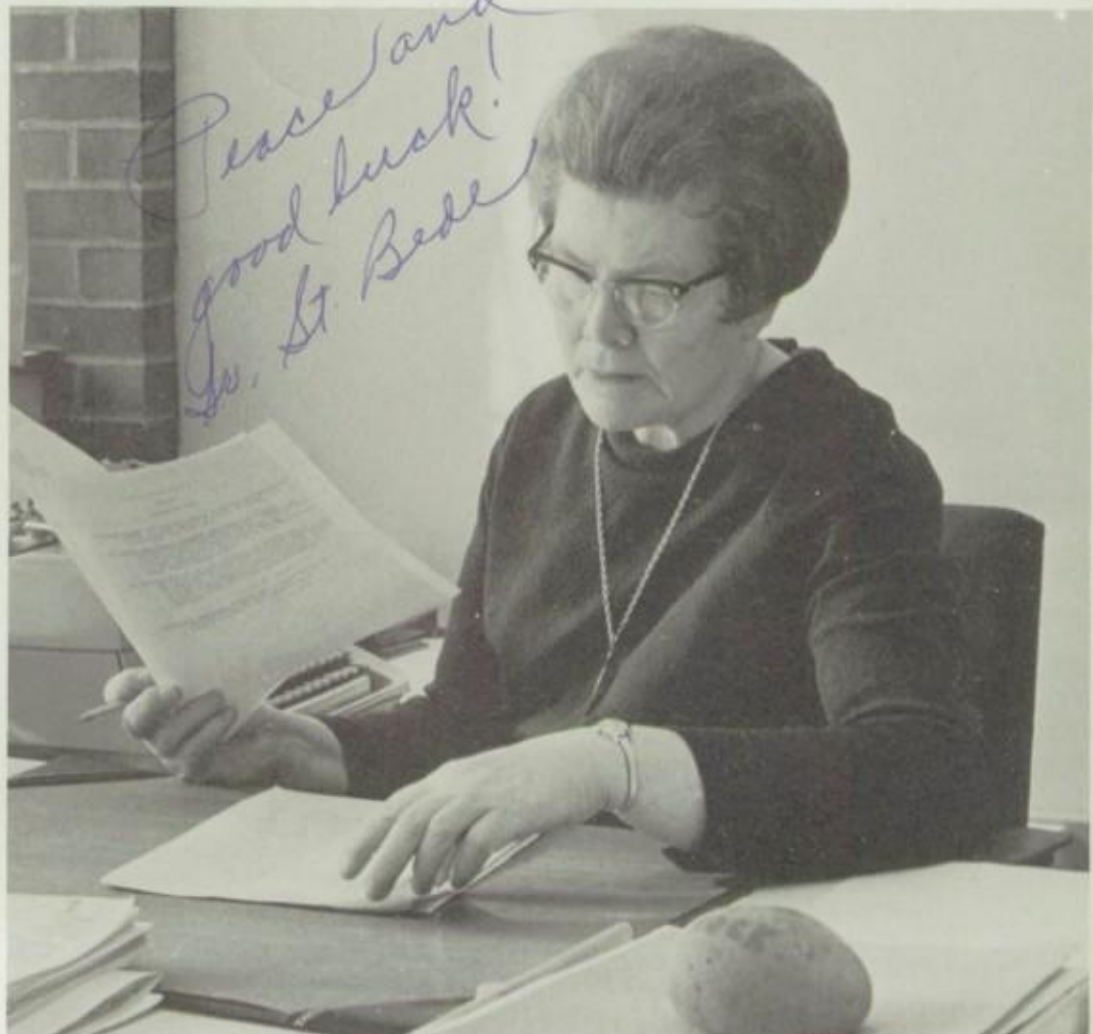

With the arrival of a new headmaster, Father John Hoehl, many changes and improvements occurred. Working together with Sister St. Bede Downey, Father made revisions in the curriculum and the school discipline policy. Social study halls and special privileges for seniors were some of the more obvious innovations, but changes were made in a deeper dimension as well. A revamping of the philosophy of the school, a recommitment to the principles of Catholic education, and a concentration on the building of a Christian community were some goals Father Hoehl attempted to achieve.

Sr. St. Bede, a familiar face at Quigley, proved again this year her ability to adapt to changing times. Under Sister's supervision a long range plan for curriculum expansion was set in motion. In addition, Sister assumed duties in the classroom as a Bookkeeping and Algebra teacher.

Faculty complemented by clerical help, special services

The efficient operation of Quigley High School depends on the services of many people. The helpful and courteous manner of "J.J." and Joanie is evident to all who enter the main office. Dollars and cents make sense to school accountant Mrs. Rowley who also mans the bookstore.

Mrs. Youngblood has the important job of keeping an accurate health record of every Quigleyite.

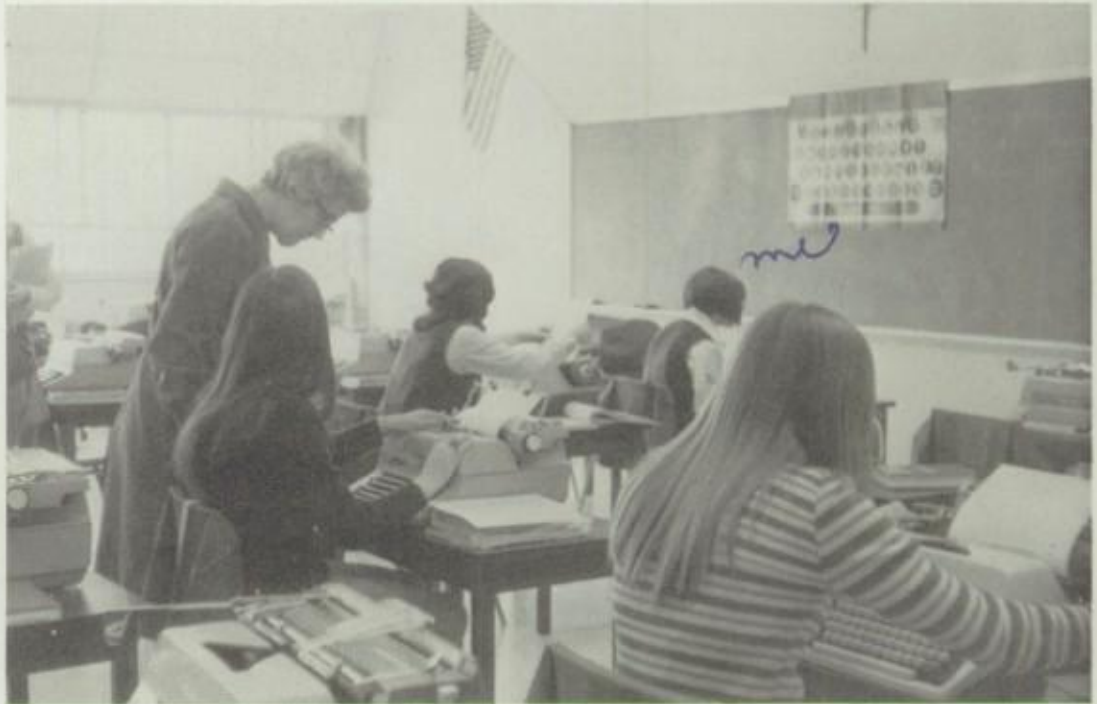

A welcome sight to the "hams" of the school is Sam Pelaia and his camera who help record the Quigley story.

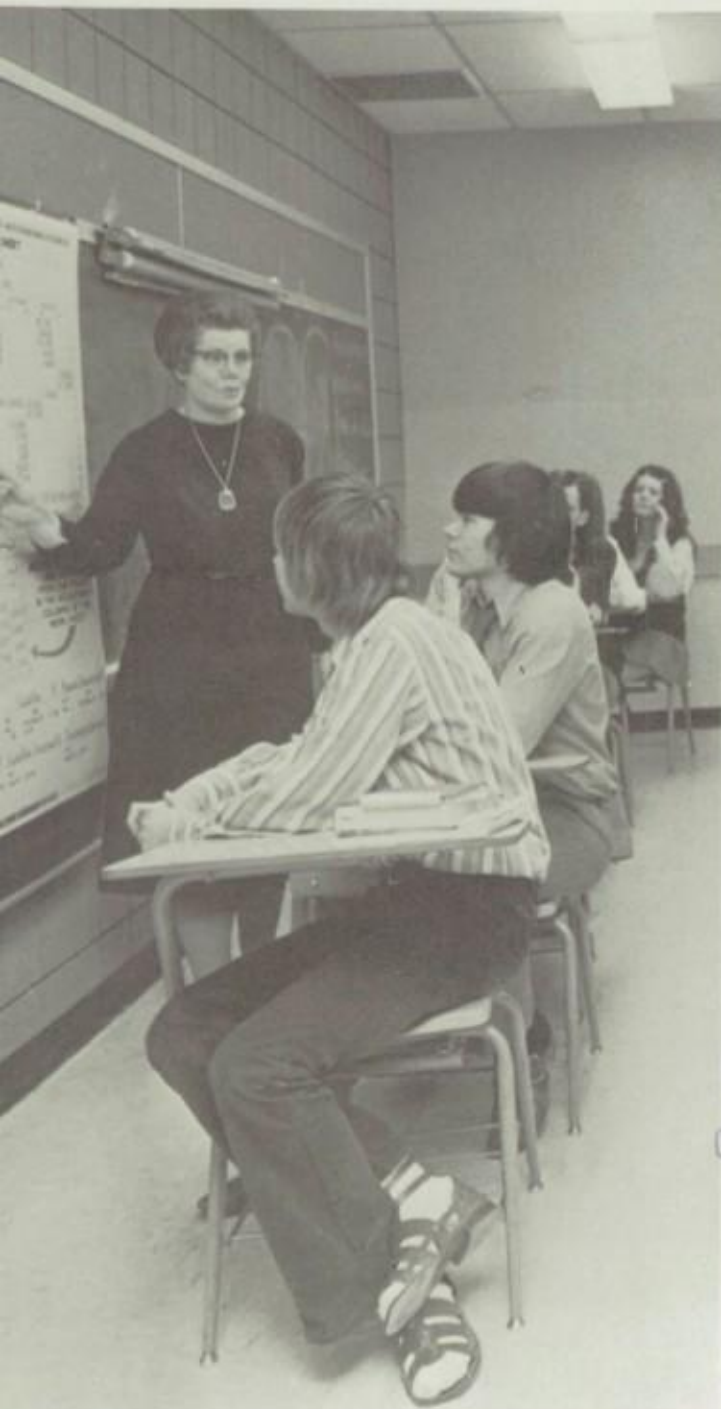

Responsibility for the flawless functioning of the school library is ably met by Sr. Teresa Culshaw.

Students prepare for business world with hard work and patience

More and more students are taking advantage of the business electives offered at Quigley. Those who plan to join the business world may take two year sequences in typing and shorthand as well as a course in bookkeeping. Academic students may elect personal typing and bookkeeping.

New machinery, such as the dictaphone, help to simulate the business world and teach alertness and accuracy.

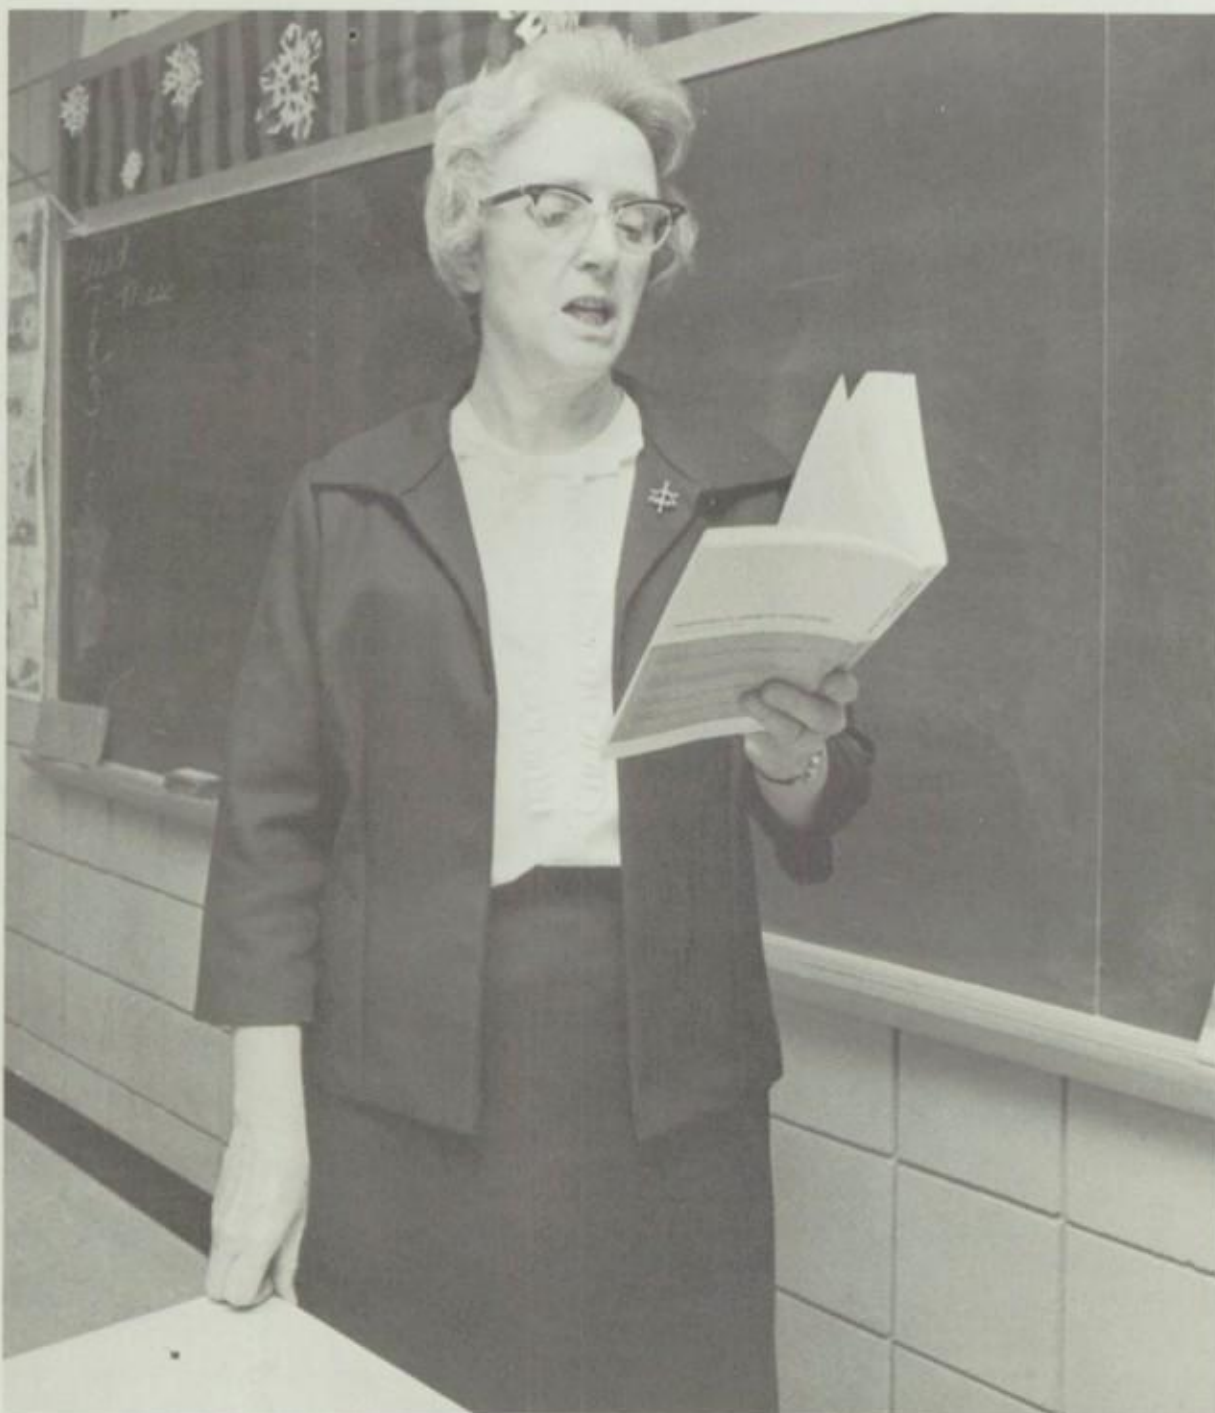

Sr. St. Bede Downey, C.S.J.

Sr. Rebecca Lowers, C.S.J.

Dear Joann,
 The best of
 luck to you.
 I've been so happy
 to have you cheerfully
 to keep that cheerfulness.
 I hope you always

English electives expand creative opportunities

The English curriculum received a face-lifting when mini-courses were offered during the second quarter. Among areas studied were Drama, Public Speaking, Journalism, and History of the English Language, while several seniors participated in independent study programs.

A performance by the Seton Hill College Players, field trips, a variety of student projects, and the use of multi-media supplemented the core studies of literature and writing.

Fine arts department utilizes hidden talents at Quigley

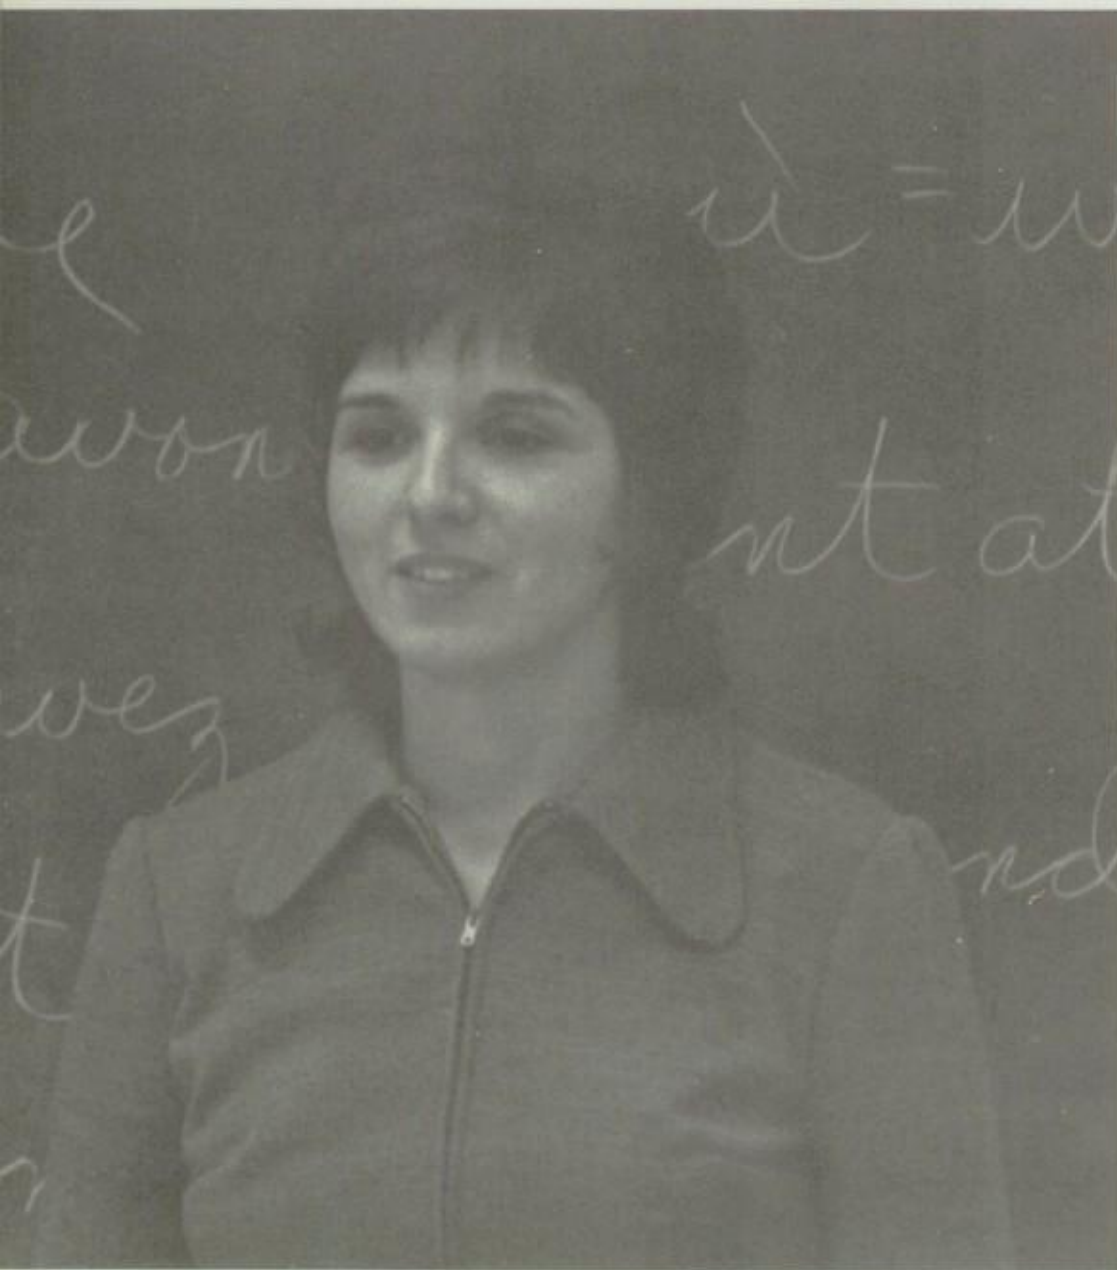

A combination of hard work, enthusiastic teachers, interested pupils, imagination, experimentation, and discovery make up the Quigley Fine Arts Department.

This year, under the guidance of Sr. Charlotte, senior art students tried their hands at oil painting and ceramics. Underclassmen found their own genius through paper maché, sketching and silk-screening.

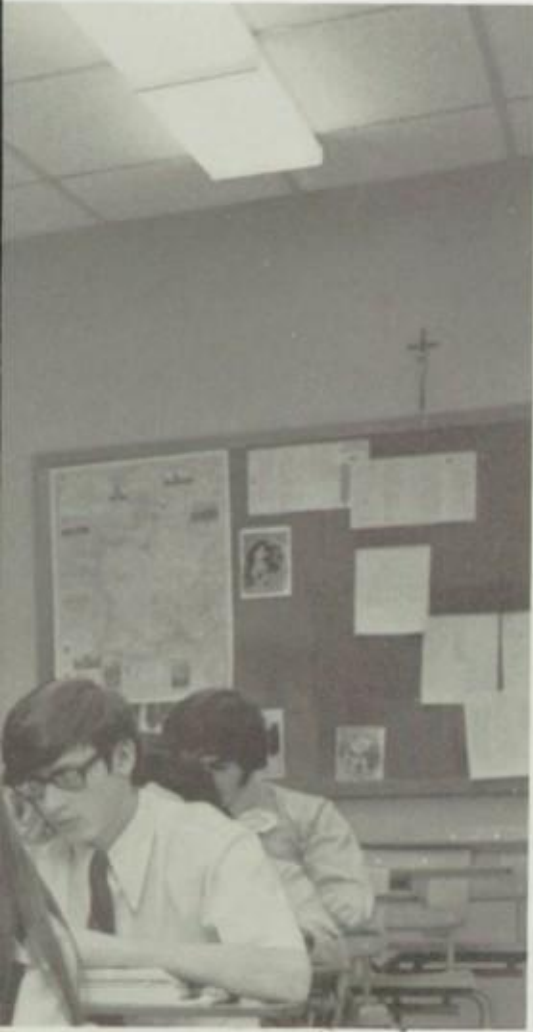

"Mr. Scrooge", a Christmas musical, highlighted the Music Department's activities. Under the direction of Miss Dorothy Yanish, Glee Club members mastered the intricacies of the stage.

Participation in the Diocesan Mixed Chorus and the presentation of a Spring Concert concluded the year on a happy note.

France, Spain, ancient Rome come alive to foreign language students

Sr. Mary Bernice, C.S.S.F.

Language is compulsory in today's world because it provides the key to communication, a vital part of modern living. In pursuit of language skills, the students encounter all the cultural aspects of a particular country and expand their knowledge of the world around them. By learning foreign languages, students obtain a far better insight into English.

The highlight of the year's studies for several Spanish students was a ten day trip to Spain over the Easter holidays. Accompanied by Mr. Beach, the students got first hand experience of Spanish language and culture.

Closer to home, some Spanish students, under the supervision of Mr. Hevia, attended the musical stage play "Man of La Mancha." Sr. Bernice and her French classes participated in the singing of various French folksongs and probed French geography through the use of photos and slides.

Mr. Carlos Hevia

Sr. Clare Ann Maggioncalda, C.S.J.

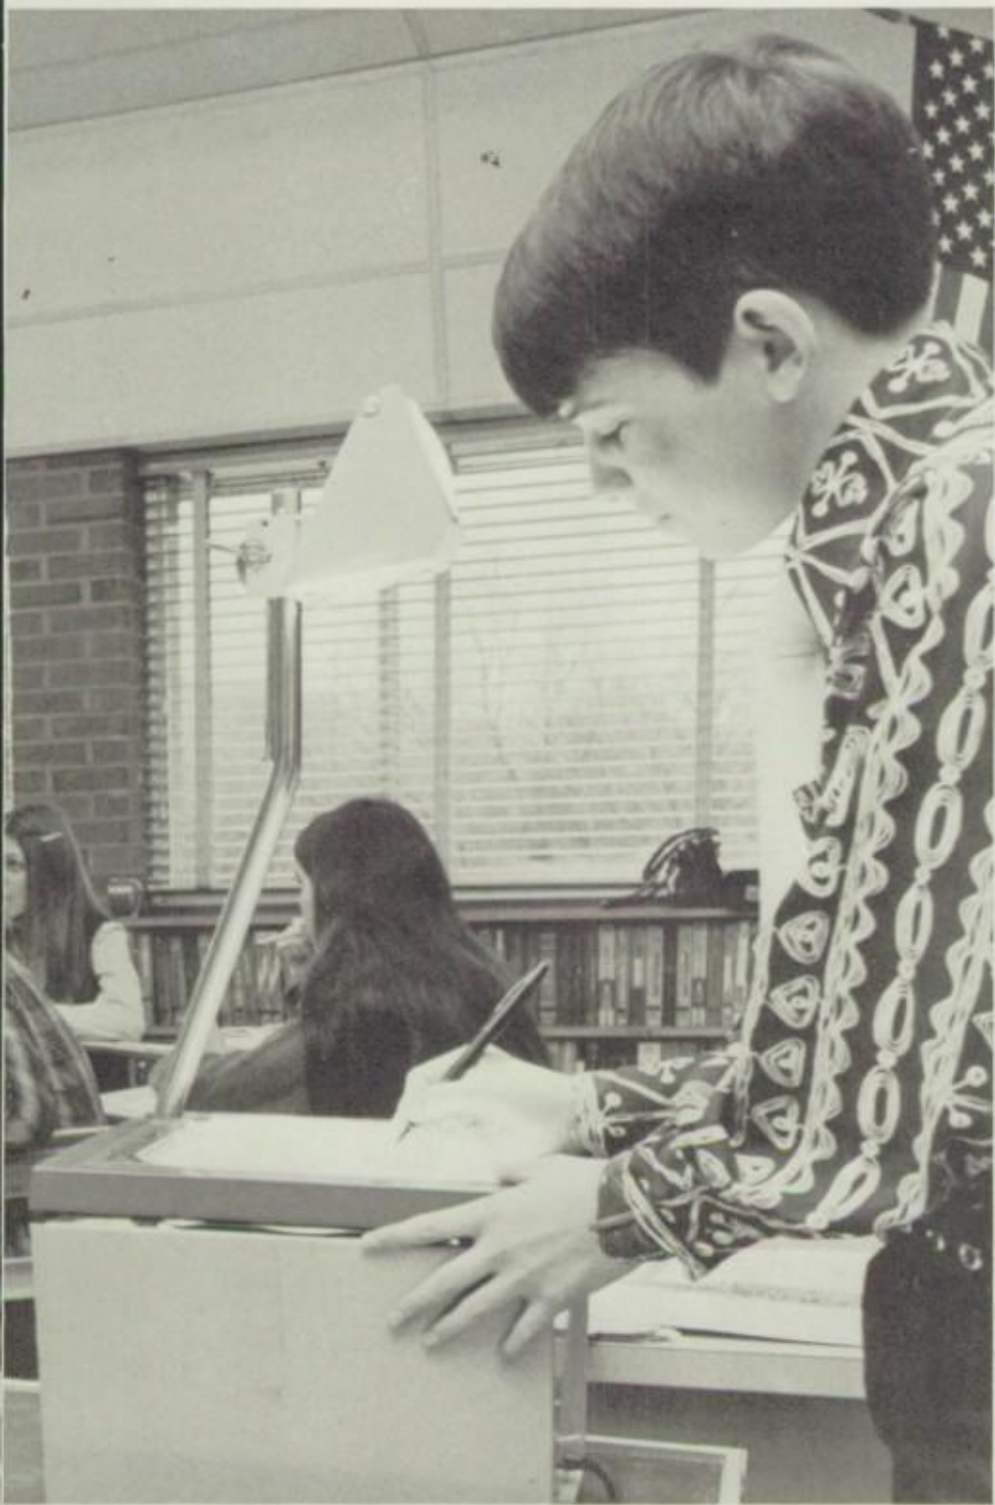

The Mathematics Department attempted this year to combine the efforts of teachers and students in broadening and deepening mathematical concepts. Supplementing this endeavor, students were given the option of participating in various contests programmed to create and sustain an interest in the field of mathematics. In addition, the Quigley computer class, an independent study group, under the guidance of department chairman, Sr. Clare Ann Maggioncalda, C.S.J., explored this rapidly developing area with the help of Mrs. Candy Bullwinkle of Problem Control Systems, Inc. The math courses and programs proved challenging and informative to Quigley students.

Gym Classes develop cooperation, coordination

Developing sound bodies is the goal of the Physical Education Department. Under the direction of Mr. Macaluso and Mr. Driscoll, the boys are put through the rigors of calisthenics. Participation in team games like football, baseball, and basketball provide opportunities to develop sportsmanlike conduct as well as to develop physical fitness.

Rhythm routines, volleyball, basketball, and wiffle-ball are popular with girl gymnasts under the direction of Mrs. Evans.

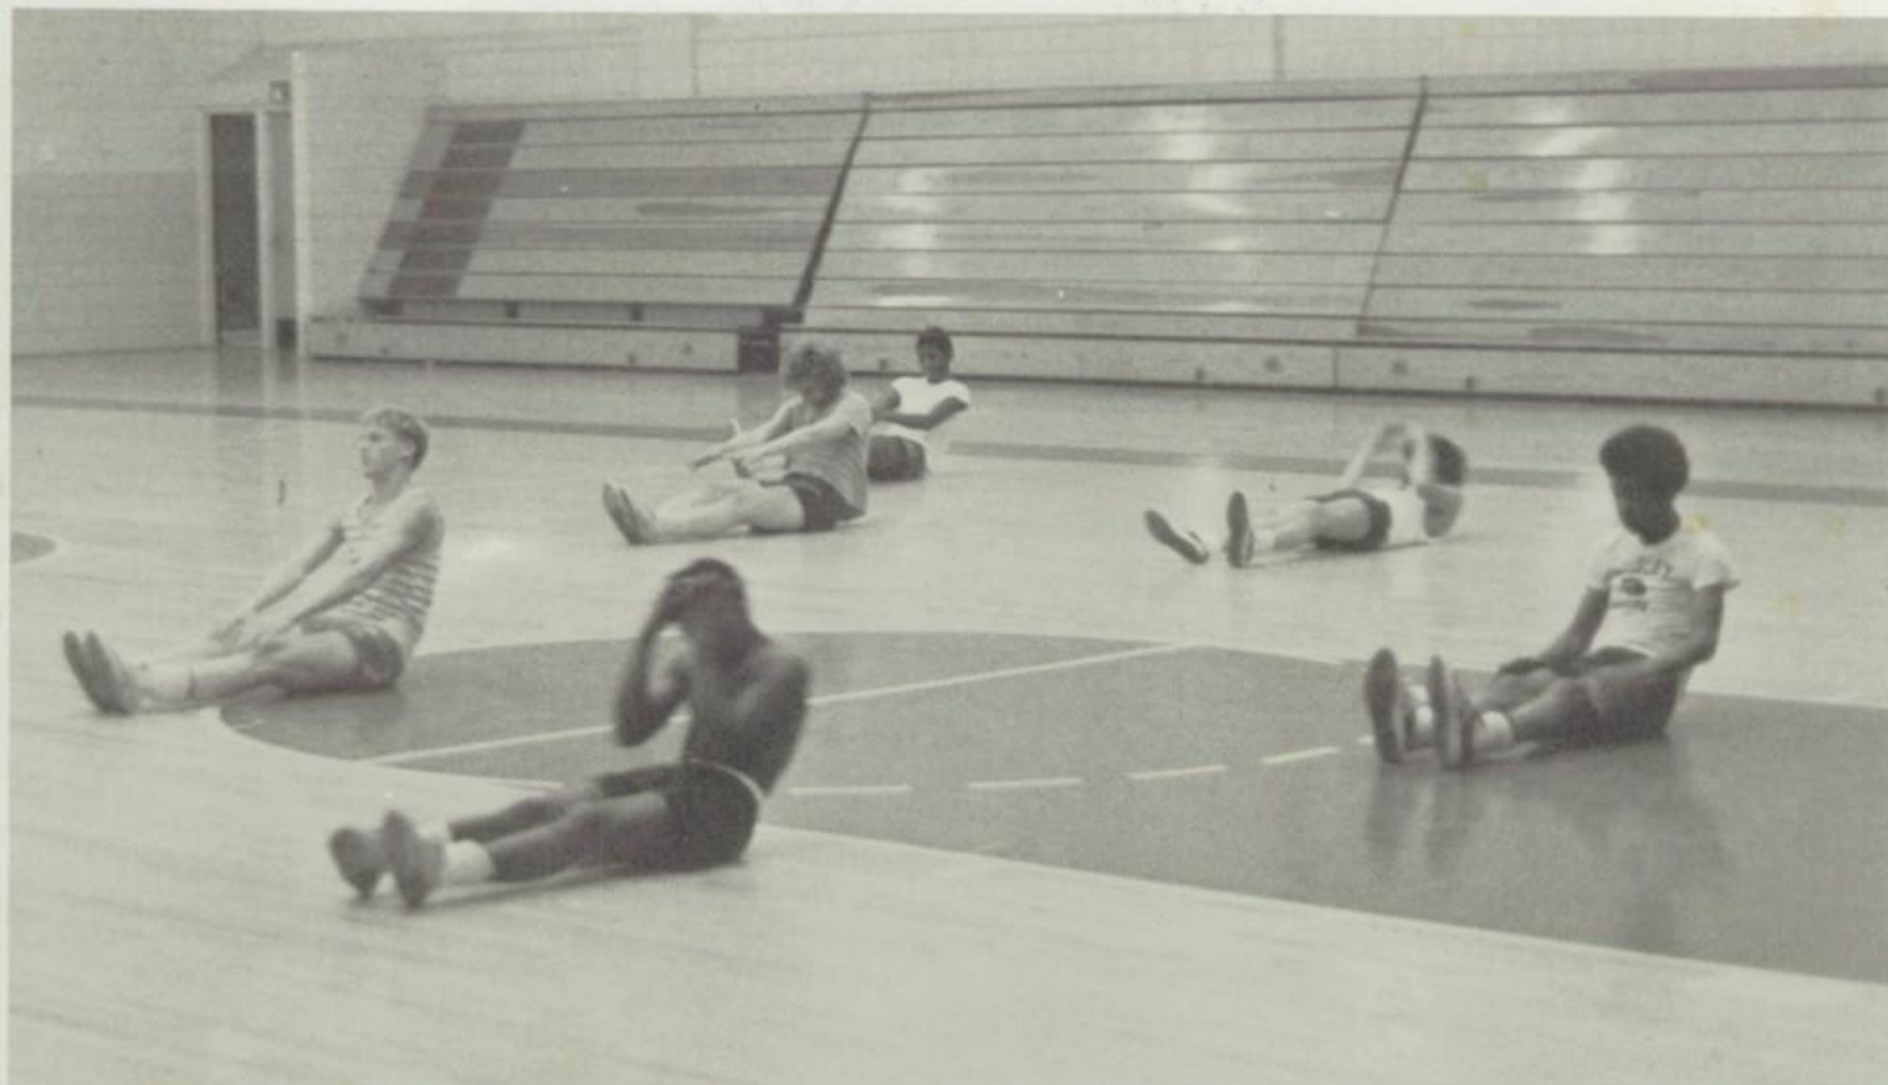

Shuffleboard and ping-pong were welcome additions to the gym in the past year.

Rev. Bernard Kustra, O.F.M. Cap.

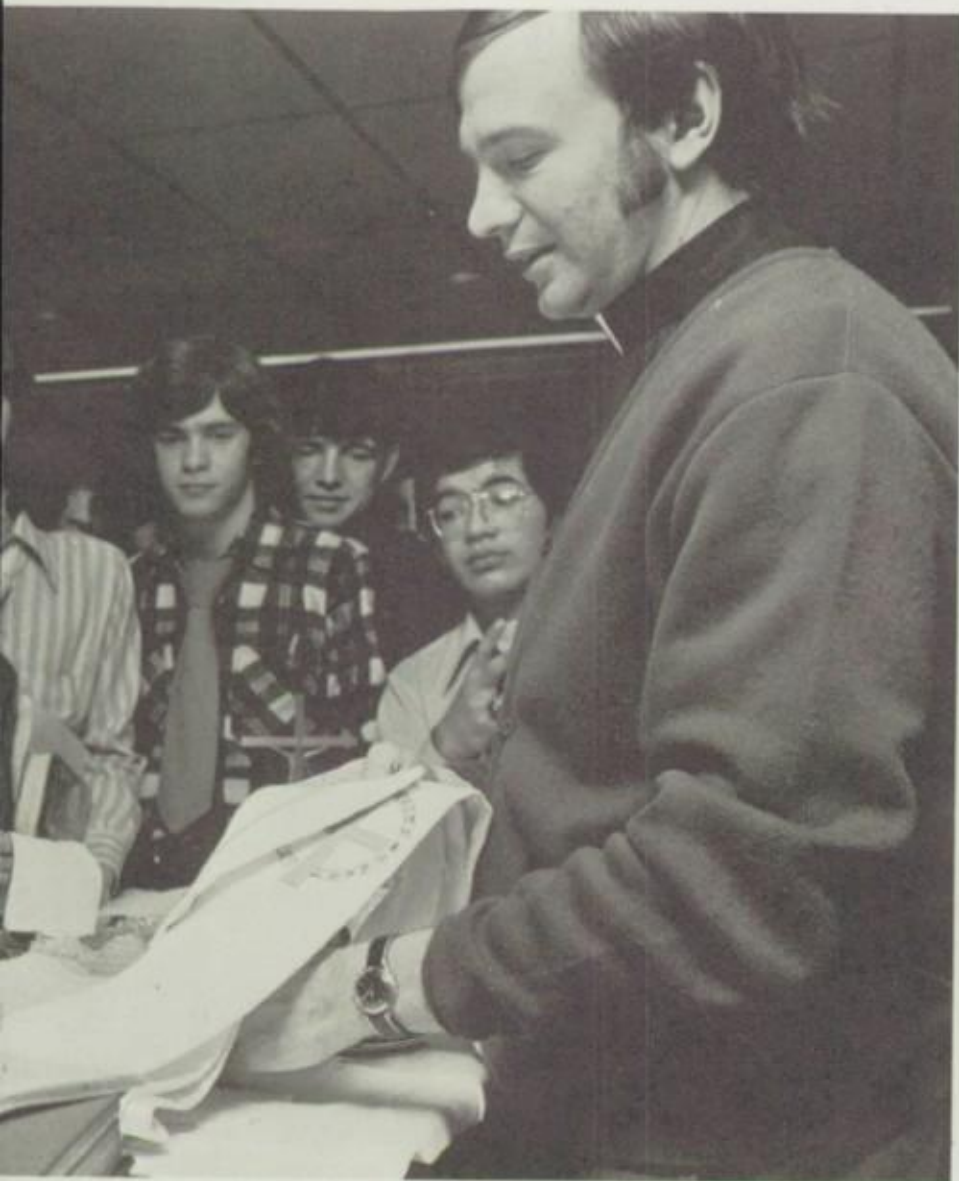

The integration of the human and divine natures of Christ into a single personality is the basis for the religious education program at Quigley. The program strives to create through interpersonal relationships an awareness and growth of humaneness in a community atmosphere.

Freshman year is spent making students familiar with the Bible, especially the Old Testament. Study of the concepts in the New Testament is a major course of the sophomores. The Sacraments and the Mass are also closely examined. The junior year completes the studies of the previous two years. Senior year is devoted to discussing the many challenges students will face in the immediate future. A marriage preparation course is also included.

Fr. Fred Just, O.F.M. Cap.

Sr. Monica Connors, C.S.J.

Guidance services pave way to adult world

The Guidance Department serves the dual function of helping students with curricular and personal problems and of assisting juniors and seniors with career and college placement.

In addition to providing a complete testing program, Sr. Monica Connors, Guidance Counselor, invites speakers from colleges, technical schools, industries and the armed services to render valuable information. The handling of applications, scholarship forms and other records is another service of the department.

Personal and spiritual guidance is also available from priest faculty members. In addition, each student is assigned a faculty advisor.

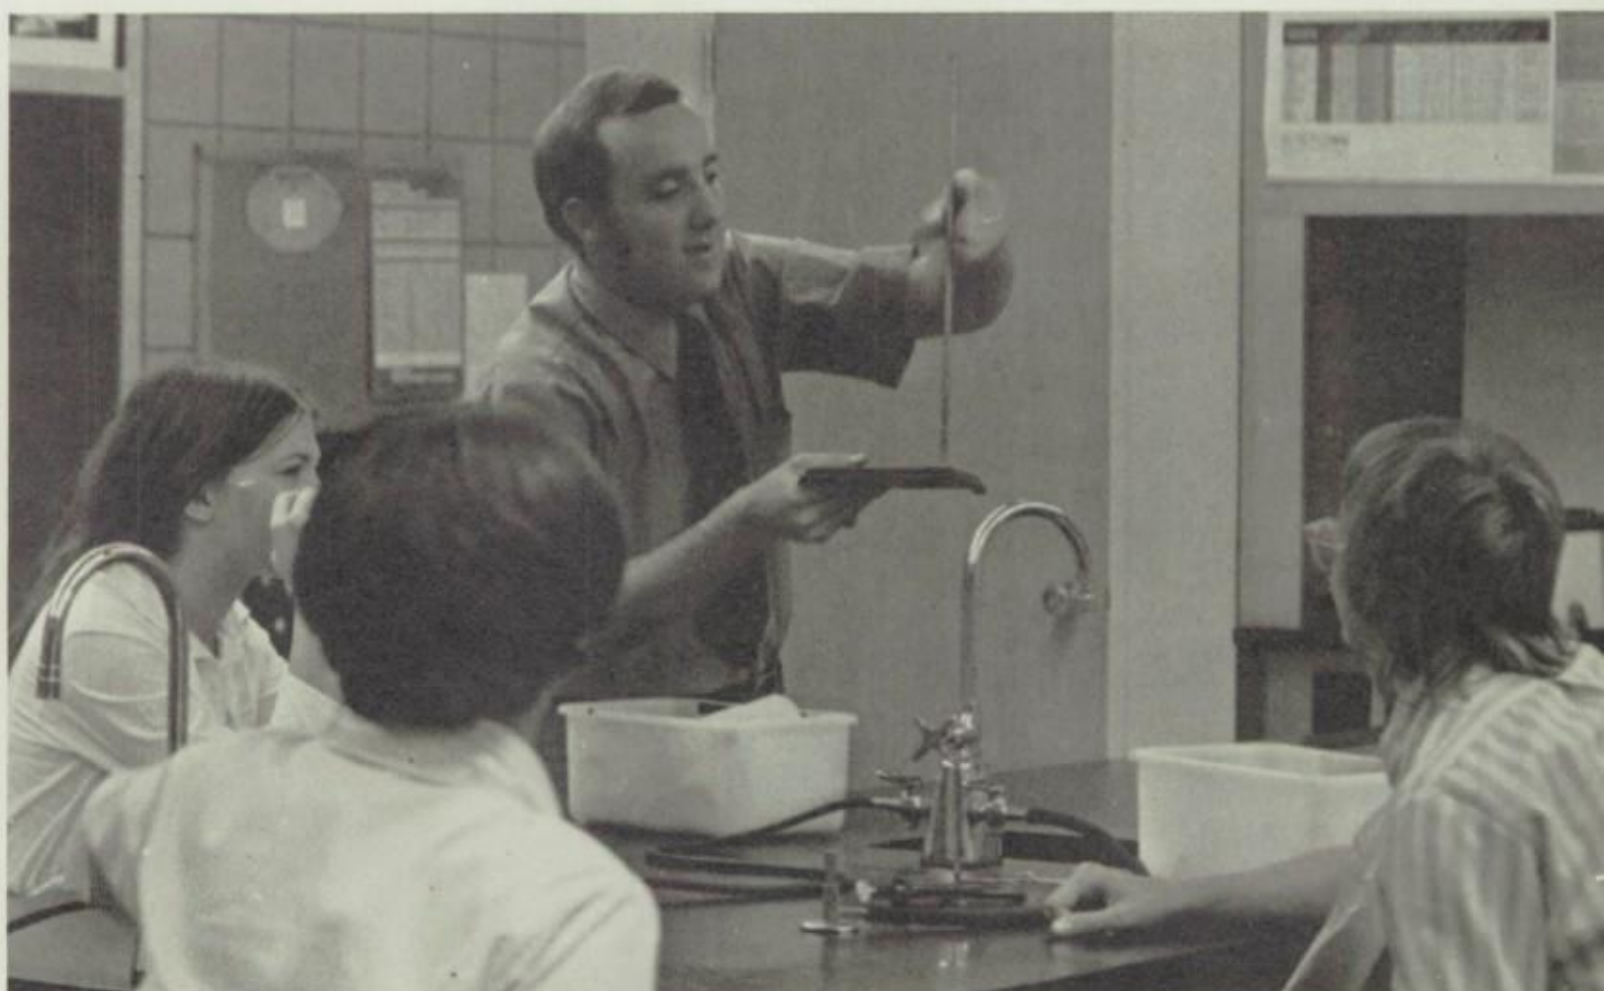

Sr. Mary Pulcheria, C.S.S.F.

Experimentation

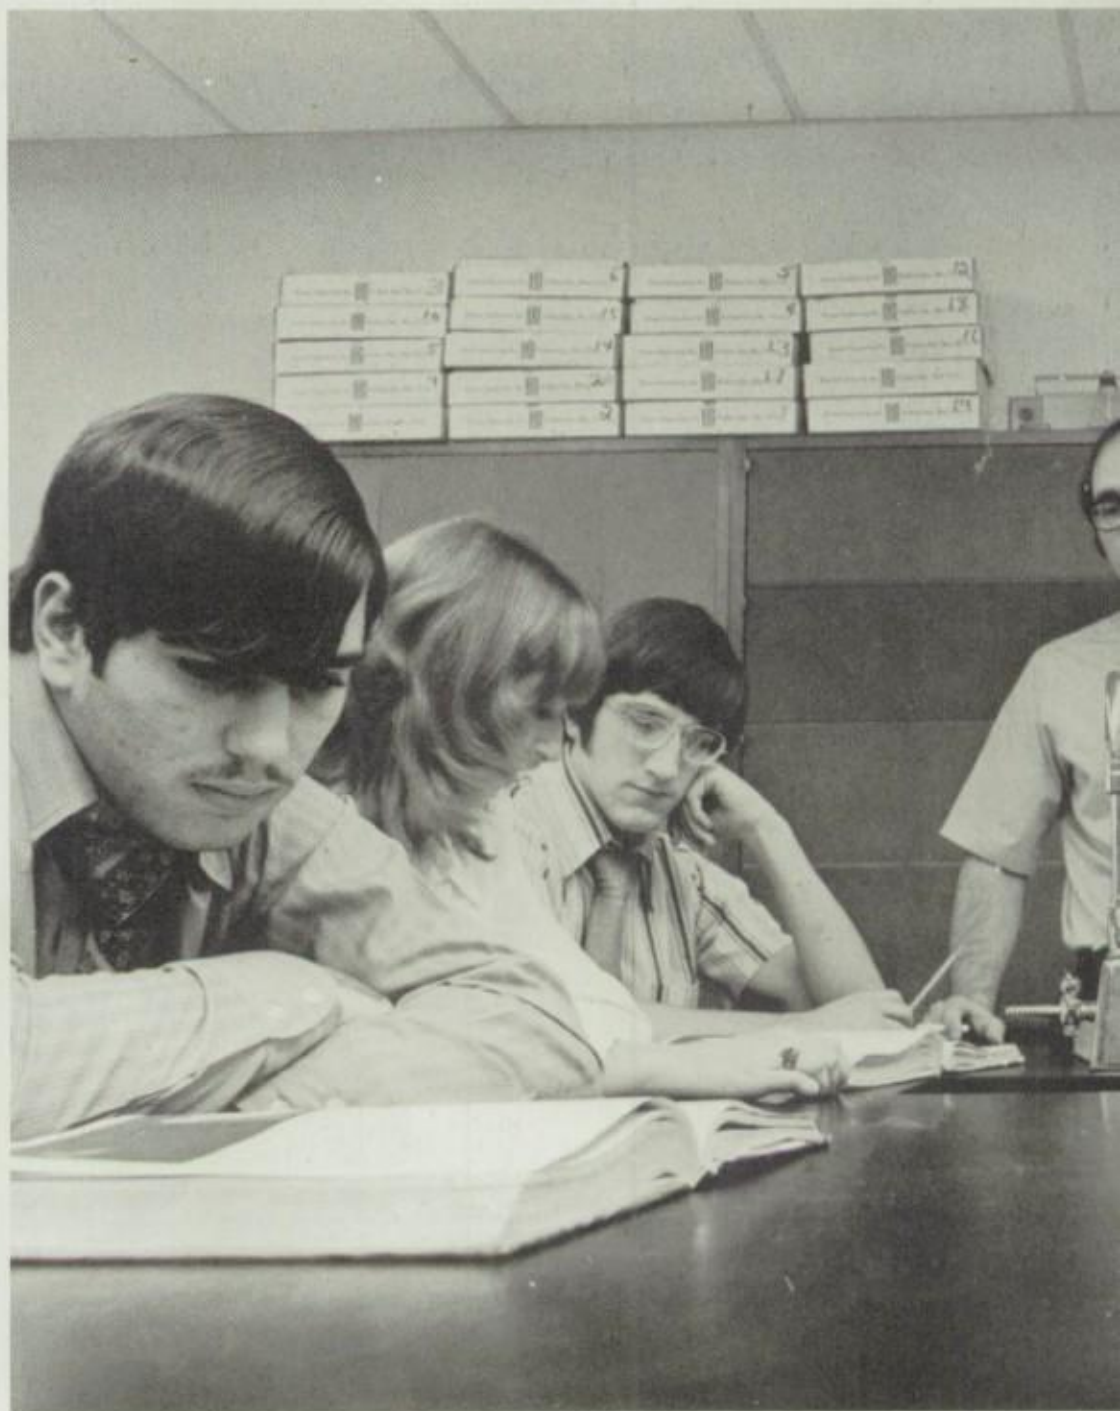

stimulates budding scientists' imaginations

Mr. Louis Biega

This year the Science Department of Quigley attempted to offer students an expanded program. The new equipment added to the lab encouraged a greater interest in the science program.

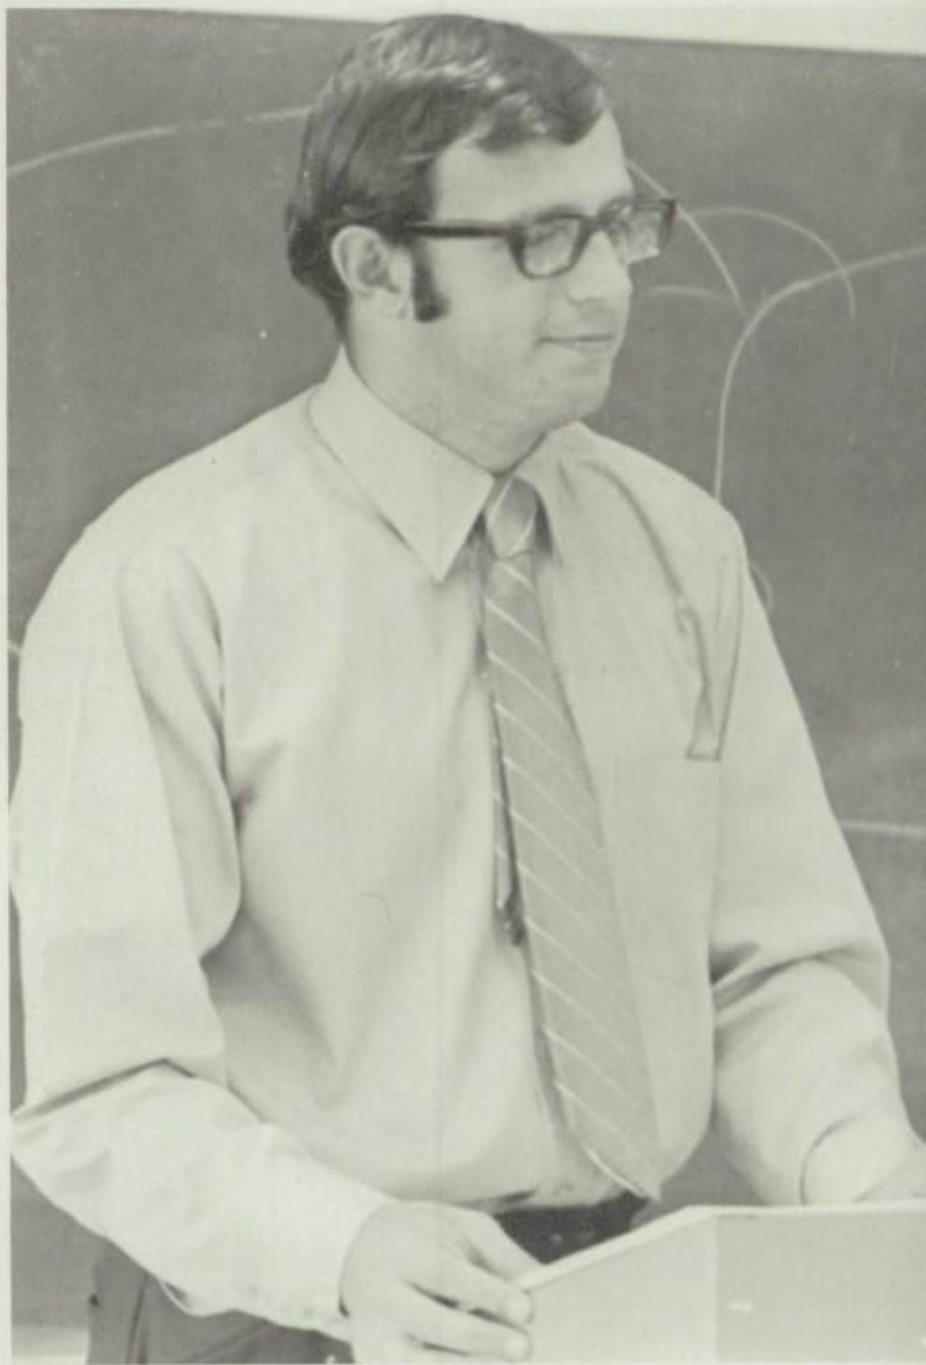

In biology classes pupils learned the techniques of dissection, and new charts helped in the study of anatomy and physiology. A laser was purchased and used for demonstrations in the physics classes. A cathode ray oscilloscope was also utilized in the courses. Under the direction of Sr. Mary Pulcheria, the department increased its collection of filmstrips. During the week before Christmas, all science classes viewed a series of films concerning the space program.

Through history pupils explore relevance of past to present, future

Quigley's History Department, under the direction of Mr. Clement Weber, attempted to make the past alive. History was made relevant to seniors by the addition of mini-courses, such as Black History and Economics, designed to provide a deeper look at some of the aspects of our history and culture. Minority groups were given their place in the junior study of the founding of our country. Slides and audio-visual aids were used in the world history courses for freshmen and sophomores. Lectures were supplemented by the new sound and sight series "Civilization."

The Quigley mosaic would be incomplete without the help of some "unknowns," Mr. Tom Kasprzyk and Mrs. Lee Dobrin, who move in to clean up after everyone else goes home.

A more familiar face is that of Mr. Luke Belsky who is known for his pleasant smile as well as for his job as "Mr. Fix-it."

The ladies who service the cafeteria with hot and delicious meals complete the picture.

Senior drive responsible for successful yearbook

Each year, special honor is awarded to the senior who solicits the greatest amount of money to defray the cost of the yearbook, GENERATION.

This year saw a close contest between Stephanie Domitrovich and Darlene Jarzynka, with Stephanie the eventual winner of the title of Yearbook Queen.

Both girls are active in school affairs and their enthusiasm for the yearbook campaign is just another manifestation of their dauntless school spirit.

Congratulations, girls!

Quigley

The main feature of Quigley's Christmas was the musical presentation "Mr. Scrooge." Under the direction of Miss Yanish, the play brought the Christmas spirit to parents and friends as well as students.

Decorated by the seniors, a huge ten foot tree (center) was resplendent in the courtyard despite the lack of snow.

After Santa, in the person of Fr. Hoehl, distributed his very appropriate gifts, assembled Quigleyites heard a rendition of some old carols with a new twist (right, top).

Seniors rock gym with "Big Rock at Candy's Mountain"

This year's senior class play brought a rock festival to Quigley High School. With its eager entrepreneurs, frantic fans, harassed townspeople, and zany performers, the show provided an enjoyable evening of musical entertainment.

(a) Adam (Gary Clerici) discusses his latest business schemes, a rock festival, with his "girl Friday," Eunice (Gloria Topolski). (b) Aunt Patience (Teresa Diadigo) and Aunt Charity (Elaine Krol) fret over their niece. (c) "Skins" (Mike Clark) and "Zippity" (Maunee George) meet to arrange acts for the festival. (d) Joe Garuccio practices for his performance in "Big Rock." (e) Stage crew members, Ron Prosper and Jeff Justi, are important to any production. (f) "Zippity" presents himself to a startled Eunice for an interview with Adam. (g) Adam suffers financial disaster but wins the love of Candy (Darlene Jarzynka). (h) Remarkable Myra Mobile (Yvonne Chinchilla) is one of the memorable characters from "Big Rock at Candy's Mountain."

Joan,
 To a very nice girl I've known for
 the past four years.
 Never forget the
 good times at Lughly!
 Good luck and may
 you have all the happiness that you deserve! Remember me
 as a friend!

Judy

Joan, really so a really nice, cute, girl
 I met last year.
 I never forgot all the
 fun we had keeping classes
 with our favorite teacher Sr. St. Bede. Good luck in the future.

LOOKING FOR SOMETHING?

Self-insight, creativity, happiness. They're all qualities that aren't easy to find. But some suggest that you try pills, needles, and capsules in the search. Some of the last generation suggested materialism. It is unlikely that peace, happiness, and love can be found at the end of a long list of possessions, nor is it likely that they can be found at the end of a chemical reaction.

Each of us must find his own answers.

Congratulations

To Joan,
One of the sweetest girls I know. And the nuttiest.
I've come to know you a lot better this year and I'm glad I did. I wish you all the luck in the world.
(Incidentally this may sound like something everyone writes. But I always write what I mean.)

Joan,
To a really sweet
girl I've known
for a long time
now. Never forget
all the fun and
good times we had
while up Feigley.
I wish you much
luck and happiness
in your future.
Always,
Barb

It takes an experienced engineer to design a barge like this and a talented team to build it. Employees at the Ambridge plant of the American Bridge Division are proud of the work they do in constructing not only barges but also some of the most majestic buildings and bridges in the world -- like the new 64-story USS headquarters building in Pittsburgh and the Verrazano Narrows Bridge in New York. The development of the necessary skills to compete in modern industry requires a proper education, and your high school diploma is a vital step which enhances your chances for a successful career.
